LUCIA Miss ANNS MONTAGER

EUGRI OF HAVENSWOOD ... MR CHAS TURKER The opening Duet was well played. The time was very exact, the touch good. Mr. Turner's first song clicited great applause. If was tender, and sympathetic, allowing fine opportunities to the singer, as all Pinsuti's melodies do. Mr. Turand sympatistic, allowing fine opportunities to the singer, as all Pinsuti's melodies do. Mr. Turner sang with great expression and his words were wonderfully clear. In the second verse the movement culminated in a fortissimo passage, while these and off the power of the singer's rich voice. Mr. Tarndley's Choral Club gave the "Arrow sad the Song," a beautiful bit off harmony, which shewed now carefully he had trained his voices. And then came Miss Montague forward. As also stopped onto the stage she was greeted with four appassage, as she left it, there was a perfect storm; from the moment she opened her lips, and left forth the first sweet note of her garrious voice, her sample, ballad which allowed of ample apportunity however, to shew off the power of the voice and the skill of the songstress. The high notes came forth a brask; at the close of the last verse the voice, after a passage full of power, suddenly softened, and almost whitsperfed its lest notes. It was a wonderful effect. The second verse shewed Miss Montague's power at the full; how beautifully and with what case she poured forth the vibrating notes. But one must hear her, description fails when such a voice as this pours forth its wealth of surface, Alf a thing to be remembaled by all who were present. So simply, so sweetly came the strains of Home Sweet Home. We never shell probably hear again that melody sung as it was sung last Monday night. It effine from the learn of the singer, it was her greeting to be cown homefore speed and a speed and a surface and a regulated or carnination by Judge Rickertee and they have furned upon the prosecutors and caused their arrest for "conspiracy." Honoidin always has a rare test when he takes the bow in hand. The Chotal Club followed with a chorus, unaccompanied, which sounded quaint yet light and pretty. Once more Miss Montague appeared, given Meyerbeer's celebrated shadow song. Dinorah had an excellent exponent, hight, tripping, said, and brilliant by turns, the rousic bright the audience entranced. Mr. Charles Turner then sang. Adams' Noct, which called forth an enthusiantic cuctor. The first part concluded with a riotin solo by Mr. Yaradhey.

After an internission of ten minutes the curtain ross again and we were transported into the realms of Rismance. It is no easy thing to give aelection from opera and to satisfy an andience. Miss Montague, and Mr. Turner successful however, they did more, the fairly carried away their audience. The legend tood to Alice. (Miss Bertha von Hoti) was wonderfully effective, there was that true are disgent too to come simplicity. After a reliable on the continue though it called for good and careful inging and Miss ven Helt sequitted herself introughly well. The legend was followed by the rand Doo in which Edgar tells Lucia that he stends to sail for France. Here Mr. Turner that layed to the full time rocal powers—As the gallarit lough gloomy Edgar he appeared finely, his layed so the full time rocal powers—As the gallarit lough gloomy Edgar he appeared finely, his layed to the words, the "words to the action." To night no one parofesses to understand what the precise condition of the negotiations with Russia may be Every delay in the negotiations has redounded to Russias advantage, and while the Ministers have been talking the Russian railway has been actively pushed toward the Afghan frontier and the Russian troops have seized strategic points.

These are the facts, and the average Briton grows impatient when an attempt is made to belittle their importance or obscure them with a cloud of words. The position of affairs to night is so involved in uncertainty and doubt as to create a general feeling of nescentry. The feeling that the proposed arbitration is likely to fall through gains weight from the annonneument made to-day, that there is likely to be considerable delay in preparing the preliminary details. The delay, it is said, will be necessary in order to allow the Catinets of the two countries to come to a decision upon the precise points to be submitted to the arbitrator. The members of the Cabinet, it is thought, may find themselves as much at sea in deciding what shall be submitted to the arbitrator as they were in trying to come to an understanding in regard to the original difficulty. Thurston visits the volcano in company with his wife, going on to Kan to take the steamer Hull to Honolelu. Kinney riated his father at Honosu after court closed. Judge Jedd rusticated at co-connut Island. Castle and son visit Kilana. Proston does not like Hilo weather—too well It has cleared up since the shower, however. Our local attorneys have a breathing spell after the weak's rush. The foreign jurous consumed $6.00 worth of candy in one day's sitting—query.

And now for general news, the Emma Claudien lies at Pspaikou loading angar from Hitchoock & Co.'s plantation. She finishes loading from the Hilo Sugar Co. at Waimaka. Captain Matson expects to sail on the 19th.

At this writing our weather is reasonably clear. Heavy showers marked the close of last week and the opening days of this. The Honolulites in town still think Hilo deserves it's reputation for wetness.

Improvements on Front street go on. The old wooden buildings on the corner of Front and Pirman streets have been torn down. Further improvements promise to go on. Business quiet.

Attempted Burglary.

An attempted Burglary of Kirkwood's store at Lahaina, was prostrated on Saturday morning. A passer by disturbed the scoundrel at work. On examination it was discovered that 48 holes had been bored at the bottom of the back door of the store. The man had a light burning which he blew out on being hailed. Of course no police were to be seen. The party who disturbed the burglar, roared himself hoarse, shouting "hani in." He finally went to the Court House from whence, after some more yelling a policeman appeared. On being told what had happened he said. "This is my place—I cannot leave." This is thoroughly typical of the ordinary Hawaiian policeman. Evidently the police department of Lahaina wants waking up. A little newspaper notoriety would do them no harm.

The Mulberry Tree.

The Mulberry Tree.

The increasing attention paid to silk culture on this Coast prompts a suggestion as to their value to this branch of industry. Trees three and four rears old will yield to the acre 25,000 pounds of leaves, enough to feed 1,000,000 allk worms. Each female produces an average of three hundred eggs. The lowest calculation, one in ten, gives 100,000 eggs to the ounce, 250 courses. Eggs sell at from $1.50 to $2 an ounce. The lowest possible yield of eggs per acre is between $500 and $1,000. If, however, the occoons are recled off, the profits, after deducting all accidents and expenses, are safely calculated at $2,000. These figures apply to California and the Southern States.—Reserves of California.

A Thorough Purgative medicine is the first necessity for cure. Then the cathartic effect must be maintained, in a mild degree, just sufficient to prevent a recurrence of costivenes, and at the same time the liver, kidneys and stomach must be stimulated and strengthened.

Ayer's Pills Accomplish this restorative work better than any other medicine. They are searching and thorough, yet mild, in their purgative action. They do not gripe the patient, and do not induce a costive re-action, as is the effect of other catharties.
